

Body Worn Video Cameras

We've something new to tell you

Police Officers now wear
Body Worn Video Cameras

This document is written by West Yorkshire Police

Body Worn Video Cameras are being introduced throughout West Yorkshire Police

All officers will wear them as part of their uniforms

This also includes Police Community Support Officers and also officers in plain clothes

The cameras will film pictures and record sound to help you and the police

We would like to explain why the cameras are a good idea

The camera is really good because it will help the public and it will help the police:

It will help the public because:

It will record what is happening so that people will believe you

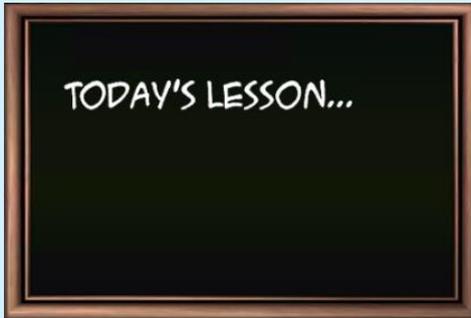

It will make it harder for people to tell lies

People may not need to go to court because information about what happened will be on the video.

The camera will help the police because:

It will help police officers to serve you better

It will help police officers so that people will believe what they say

It will protect police officers if someone decides to attack them because the attack will be recorded

When we decide to use the camera, the officer will tell you

If you are Deaf or hard of hearing, the police officer will sign to show that they are recording

We can explain this from a mobile phone

The flashing red light means the camera is recording what is happening

The law says that the police officer is allowed to use this camera to record you

If you are a suspect or need to be arrested, you will not be able to say 'No' to being recorded

If you are a victim or witness and being recorded will upset you, you can say 'No'. However, in some cases, we may still need to record in order to collect the evidence we need to help you.

CONFIDENTIAL

We have thought about your security and your privacy when we use the Body Worn Video cameras

We are following what the law says about what we can do with the information on the video

The pictures and sound that we take will be held safely on police computers

We will only keep the recording for a certain period of time. This will depend on how serious the matter is.

Safer Neighbourhood

The cameras will play an important part in helping people to be safer

Making our communities safe and feeling safer

Body Worn Video Cameras are a good thing for everyone:

The camera will help the police to do their job

The camera will help people think twice before they do something wrong because they will know they are being recorded.

The camera will help people who are the victims of crime.
